

How to find the Edith Road Workshops

The Edith Road Workshops are about half a mile south of Oxford City Centre.

Buses 35, X13, 16, X3 and others stop nearby on Abingdon Road, and the Sustrans National Cycle Route "5" runs along Marlborough Road and across Hinksey Park.

The whole area is a residents parking zone, and the small drive to the Workshops is shared, with little room to manoeuvre. We recommend you park in Hinksey Park.

There are now charges for parking – 50p for one hour and £1 for two. The council used to lock the park at sunset, which was 4pm in November and December, but we don't know whether they still do.

